JUDGE BROWN'S FINDINGS IN JUNK DEALERS' CASE.

Gives Copies of His Decision to the Attorneys in the Matter.

In the city court on Monday morning when the case of the state vs. the three junk dealers came up according to continuance and Judge Brown gave his decision as he intended, a few days ago, furnishing the attorneys in the case copies of his finding, which is as follows:

INSULT COURT. njoixg vyvoh

The law as to legal jeopardy is well settled and there can be no dispute as to this principle of law. A person cannot be put in jeopardy a second time on the same criminal charge, after he has been once tried before a court of competent and final jurisdiction. Rarely does this question arise. I do not remember prior to this time the question was ever raised in this court.

I do not understand that there now is any question raised here as to this principle of law, but it is rather a question of fact to which we are to apply this well defined proposition of law.

The real point in this matter is simply this: Did the city court which tried these same accused parties on the one and the same charge as now before the court, which was heard in August, 1908, after a full hearing, discharged all of said parties, have final jurisdiction of the matters on trial?

It was final jurisdiction, if the court considered the possible punishment to be inflicted by the state as to wit, $200 fine and six months in jail, sufficient for these men, provided the charge had been proved against them. It would, with this condition, have been just as final, so far as the case was concerned, as in the trial of a case of intoxication. The court in either case would be trying something absolutely in its jurisdiction, and it would be, as far as the state's interests are concerned, as final as possible in the superior court with a jury.

In the case on trial the state undoubtedly claims to have new evidence, which was not known at the time of former trial, and which, if now presented, might change the former decision of the court, so to denote an opportunity to present their evidence seems a hardship for the state, but if the facts upon examination show there was final jurisdiction at former trial, the state's representatives cannot greatly complain. It only remains for the proper determination of the case to know what was in the mind of the court on the former trial. The following is the finding of the court on that trial:

1. That the evidence presented was insufficient to warrant holding these parties.

2. That the court, if it had found any one or all of them guilty upon the evidence presented, would have inflicted the punishment of $200 fine and six months in jail.

3. To support this view of the city court as to the proper punishment in the event of the accused being found guilty, I would refer to the punishment of $200 fine and six months in jail, which was the punishment in this case, in which a fine of $200 was imposed upon each. It is true, however, I think, that the jury had been in jail awhile awaiting trial.

If this court trying these cases had even considered that the evidence presented did not warrant a conviction on this charge and discharged the accused, but did consider crime alleged, if proven, as to be a more serious punishment than that court allowed to be given, then they could be presented again, and it would not be putting these men twice in jeopardy, as the trial could not be termed a final jurisdiction. This is, in my mind, the clear distinction as to the question of final jurisdiction in this case. If I considered I was trying these men for a crime which should be punished with a fine of $200 or less and a sentence of six months or less, then there was final jurisdiction exercised in this case. I did consider this sufficient punishment at time of trial and there fore overrule demurrer and sustain plea in bar.

In my mind, in conclusion, judges of courts very naturally differ in penalties given to criminals convicted before them. It has been my policy in the disposition of the cases before me to mete out sentences up to the limit of the jurisdiction of the court wherever that sentence seemed to be warranted, or to bind over such cases to the superior court, and thus possibly save expense to the state and also labor for the state's attorney.

NO ACTION TAKEN ON SHANNON CORNER MATTER.

Public Improvements Committee of the Board of Trade discusses the idea advanced by J. D. Haviland and Dr. Guiliver.

There was a meeting of the public improvements committee of the Board of Trade at the room in the Buwell building on Monday afternoon, called for the purpose of considering the question of widening the street at Shannon's corner. John Dixon Hall, chairman of the committee, presided, but there was no action taken.

The matter of widening the street at Shannon's corner was first advanced by Joseph D. Haviland, after which Dr. Guiliver favored the idea. The latter spoke before the committee, showing plans of widening the street five feet or fifteen feet at the corner and tapering down to nothing on both Main and Shetucket streets. Mr. Shannon had not been seen regarding the expense of such an improvement and the cost of the land, so that with nothing to act upon the meeting proved to be a discussion or hearing from which something may develop later.

The monthly report of the city treasurer was ordered printed in the journal.

The public works committee, reporting on the petition of Frances R. D. Hoffman, who asked for a grade for a walk on the southerly side of Rockwell street, said they found the grade was established in 1888. The report was accepted.

The public works committee, on the petition of James Ringland, who asked for a grade for a walk on the northerly side of Hickory street, reported that a grade should be established from Prospect to Golden street, which was described, but action on it was deferred to next meeting.

The same committee reported favorably on the petition of John Woodman for a grade for a walk in front of his property at the corner of Adams and Woodman streets, and fixed the 6th of April for a hearing.

W. A. Briscoe and W. T. Crandall asked for the establishment of a grade on Rockwell street from McKinley avenue to the Broad street school property. It was referred to the public works committee and they reported favorably after giving the matter a hearing.

There was a communication from Superintendent Anderson of the electric light and power company, who reported that the electric light and power company had been notified by the city of the proposed widening of the street at Shannon's corner, and that they were willing to pay for the widening of the street at that corner.

Mrs. Ida Werner of Galveston, Tex., claims the walk built by the city in front of the Freeman property on the corner of Adams and Woodman streets, and that she has a claim for damages. It was referred to the public works committee.

Several Petitions.

James Riley of No. 277 Central avenue asked to have two trees in front of his property trimmed. It was referred to the street commissioner.

Lucius Brown and twenty-one others asked for the immediate removal of the electric light pole on the corner of Adams and Woodman streets, which was erected over the sidewalk in McKinley avenue, as there is very great peril to pedestrians there. They believe the method of construction is entirely unnecessary and increases danger to life. It was referred to the police commissioner.

Arthur M. Brown and seventeen others asked the council to assign a day patrolman to that part of the city known as the "back street" area, between West Side from Washington square to North High street. There are frequent disorders from a lawless class which menace public welfare and safety. It was referred to the police commissioner.

A. J. Wholey and eleven others, representing the plumbers, asked the council to pass an ordinance to regulate the work of plumbers, with the view to safeguarding the public from the dangers of unsanitary plumbing.

BEST HOME REMEDY FOR RHEUMATISM.

Fine Prescription for Kidney Trouble—Anyone Can Prepare.

This is a simple home recipe now being known in all the larger cities through the newspapers. It is intended to check the many cases of Rheumatism, kidney and bladder troubles which have made so many cripples and invalids and weakenings of some of our brightest and strongest people.

The druggists here have been notified to supply themselves with the ingredients, and the sufferer will have no trouble to obtain them. The prescription is as follows: Fluid Extract of Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Syrup of Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Mix by shaking well in a bottle. The follow, is a very powerful after each meal and at bedtime.

Recent experiments prove this simple mixture effective in Rheumatism, because of its positive action upon the eliminative tissues of the kidneys. It compels these most vital organs to filter from the blood and system the waste impurities and uric acid which is the cause of rheumatism. It cleanses the kidneys, strengthens them and removes quickly such symptoms as backache, blood disorders, bladder weakness, frequent urination, painful urination, discolored urine. It acts as a powerful stimulant to the entire kidney and bladder structures.

Those who suffer and are accustomed to purchase a bottle of medicine should not let a little inconvenience interfere with making this up.

When the remainder of the work is completed.

The following bills were approved: Water department, $1,250.73; gas and electric department, $4,445.49; park, $76.96; finance, $2,187.18; street, $1,445.33; cemetery, $2,000.00; police, $1,885.62; street lighting, $1,807.89; fire, $1,761.94.

Stomach Agony

Abolish the Cause, and Misery and Distresses of Indigestion will Vanish.

"Can indigestion be cured? Hundreds of thousands of people who suffer from belching of gas, biliousness, sour stomach, fullness, nausea, shortness of breath, bad taste in mouth, foul breath, nervousness and other distressing symptoms, are asking themselves that question daily.

And if these same doubting dyspeptics could hear the thousands of sincere letters from people who once suffered as badly as they do now, but who have been quickly and permanently cured by the use of Mi-o-na, the mighty dyspepsia remedy that cures by removing the cause, they would go to The Lee & Osgood Co. this very day and get a large box of Mi-o-na tablets and start themselves on the right road to health at once.

The price of Mi-o-na tablets is only 60 cents, and The Lee & Osgood Co. guarantees them to cure indigestion, or money back.

Thin or lean or scrawny people will find in Mi-o-na a maker of flesh and blood, because it causes the stomach to extract more nutritious matter from the food, which quickly enriches
